

BERRANGÉ FAMILY in SOUTH AFRICA

This project was begun four years ago, a consequence of my researching the Serrurier Family. What follows represents a survey of all documentation between 1756 and 1959 currently available to me through the South African Archives Repositories, to the staff of which I am greatly indebted.

Berrangé (Berangé) dates from the middle ages, is derived from the name of a male, Berengarius, the hunter, and portrayed as a boar with a javelin.

BERRANGÉ

The EUROPEAN FAMILY

1. Antonie Berrangé m Maria Fabriij

1.1 Antonie Berrangé (Delft) d. 6 April 1767 m Adriana Pel (Delft)

Antonie Berrangé was a sick-comforter. Together with one, Adriana Pel, he was "egte liede met kerklyke attestatie van Delft van den 28 Oct 1748", and was admitted to the Cape church community during 1749. Frequently records attribute this role to his son. This is incorrect. In a will drawn on 18 October 1738 in Cloppenburg he was listed as "cleermaaker". It was filed 8 May 1767, 2 days after his death. MOOC 7/1/17.56

1.1.1 Antonie Berrangé (Delft) m 12 January 1764 Elizabeth Fleck

Antonie Berrangé de Jonge was admitted as a member of the Cape church community 21 December 1756. He married Elizabeth Fleck, the sister of Rev. Christiaan Fleck of Cape Town. He went on to become a merchant and prominent burgher. On 10 December 1782 he was appointed "kommissaris van Civiele en huwelijxzaken". On 17 December 1782 he gained permission of the governor to send his son, Johannes Christoffel Berrangé, to Europe to be educated. A joint will drawn on 25 March 1765 was lodged August 1796 MOOC 7/1/40.94 7/1/70.1-3 reflect a will drawn 11 January 1812 and two codicils dated 7 July 1815 puts her birth date at 22 December 1758. This does not accord with the facts, namely her parents marriage date and the baptism date in the DRC Register of Births, Deaths and Marriages. The persons listed above as children claimed her estate

1.1.1.4 During the second Synod in 1826, the Registrar of the NG Kerk, Rev JC Berrangé, is instructed to take Synodal archival material into his care and to compile a "redeneerd Register" or Synodal Repertory of the proceedings. The Registrar of the Synod performed this role for many years. In 1883 the Synod established a Church Office Commission with the mandate to equip a proper church office. The same Synod authorised the purchase of a safe for the archives of the Synod. One of the duties of the commissioner was that he should take over the task of Archivist from the Registrar. Rev. Johannes Christoffel Berrangé died leaving an estate of 45961.10 rixdollars (or £3447/1/9%) to his three daughters by his first marriage to Hester Alida Elizabeth van Bockum. They were : Elizabeth Hester Berrangé married to Jan Serrurier; Catharina Gerharda Berrangé; and Antonia Maria Berrangé married to Jan Hendrik Hofmeyer Jnr. MOOC 13/1/52 No.36

The following note appears in the Liquidation and Distribution Account : "the slave child Christiaan van die Kaap belonging to the Estate, aged ten years, having been found to be infected with a Leprosy, has been sent by order of the Burgher Senate to the Institute called Hemel en Aarde situate(sic) in the district of Caledon shall be provided with the necessary clothing at the Expense of the joint estate ".

Based on the intestate thesis, an application was made to have the following appointed executors: Jan Christiaan Berrangé, Louis Berrangé, Jan Fredr. Serrurier and Fredr. van Breda. The Death Notice lacks clarity if not accuracy. The following were mentioned in the estate papers : the Widow van Bihls, JN Nelson, JP Berrangé, Rev. JP Berrangé, C Berrangé.

In keeping with many documents I have seen written by JC Berrangé, the Death Notice is a slap-dash document and contributes to the obfuscation which surrounds Family names. It is written in a poor hand, paying little heed to accuracy nor convention with regards to lineage. See "The Serrurier Family Tree" for lineage.

DFB was the 7th child and s.o. Anthonie Berrangé and Elisabeth Fleck of Delft; and is described on his marriage certificate as "Auditeur Militair by t Garricockalhier". He became a well-respected Cape Town attorney/advocate. He was President of the Orphan Chamber and held an Doctor of Laws (LLD) according to his Death Notice MOOC 6/9/36 No.7927 ; 13/1/127.18 filed July 1845 7/1/191.33 filed 17 November 1847. Based on his considerable law library, with books dating from 1562-1809, the statute book of the Cape Parliament was compiled. This library later devolved to his grandson of the same name.

Cemetery: KNIGHTSBRIDGE WAR CEMETERY, ACROMA

Knightsbridge War Cemetery is 25 kilometres west of Tobruk, in open country south of the main road from Tobruk to Derna and Benghazi. A rough track from the main road leads to the cemetery and then south to the area in which was fought the battle of the Knightsbridge "box". There is no tarmac on the rough track but it is suitable for vehicles.

Historical Information: The defence against Rommel's drive across Cyrenaica towards Suez consisted of a number of irregularly spaced strong points or 'boxes' linked by deep minefields. Those nearest the Axis forces were held by infantry, while those further back served as reserve static positions and as bases from which the armour could operate. The chief 'box', known as Knightsbridge, was round a junction of tracks about 20 kilometres west of Tobruk and 16 kilometres south of Acroma, commanding all the tracks by which supplies came up to the front. The Eighth Army's advance fuelling stations and airfields were at Acroma, El Adem, El Duda, Sidi Rezegh and Gambut, while by February 1941, Gazala aerodrome, taken from the Italians early in the campaign, housed two Commonwealth squadrons. Knightsbridge was thus a key position, and the pivot on which the armour manoeuvred during the heavy fighting which commenced in late May 1942. Fierce actions were fought at all these places, and a battlefield cemetery was created at each for the burial of the dead. The graves of many of those who gave their lives during the campaign in Libya were later gathered into Knightsbridge War Cemetery from the battlefield burial grounds and from scattered desert sites. The men who fought and died with them, but have no known grave, are commemorated on The Alamein Memorial which stands in El Alamein War Cemetery, Egypt. There are now 3,651 Commonwealth servicemen of the Second World War buried or commemorated in Knightsbridge War Cemetery. 993 of the burials are unidentified and special memorials commemorate a number of casualties known or believed to be buried among them.
