3. PELTERET FAMILY ORIGINS

The name Pelteret derives from the Old French for "fellmonger.....furrier.....dresser of pelts or animal skins" and is rare.

Names of similar origin include Pelletier, Peltier, Pelter, Pilter, Pelzer (French), van Pelt (German), Pellitteri, Pillitteri, Impellitteri, Impelizzeri (Italian).

Crests for many of these and other similar names are well documented (J B Rietstap).

The Pelteret family appears to have been Protestant-Huguenot and originates from the Champagne, Lorraine and Cote d'Or districts of France. It has been postulated that members of the family migrated at the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes on 18 October 1685 to the state of Brandenburg, Prussia and may have been in the retinue of George I of Hanover when he journeyed to take the English throne in 1714. Correspondence with Royal Archive, Windsor tends to discount the latter. The family name appears in the archives in Den Hague, Brandenburg, Berlin and in parish registers in central London, England.

On the other hand, records exist suggesting that the name may have reached England far earlier. William le Peleter (unpublished Assize Roll, Yorkshire: 1219), Adam le Peletur (Subsidy Rolls, Sussex 1296), Henry le Pelter (41st Annual Report [1880] of Deputy Keeper of Public Records in London, 1301). In the Assize Roll of 1309 (Société Jersiaise 1903 No.18) the name le Pelletier appears and is thought to be of Norman-French origin having arrived in Jersey and Guernsey during the reign of King John (1167-1216), when the islands were attached to the English crown.

It is reputed that the name traveled to The Americas in the 1860's. To-date, only two records, one dating from the 1600's and the other the 1800's, have been found.

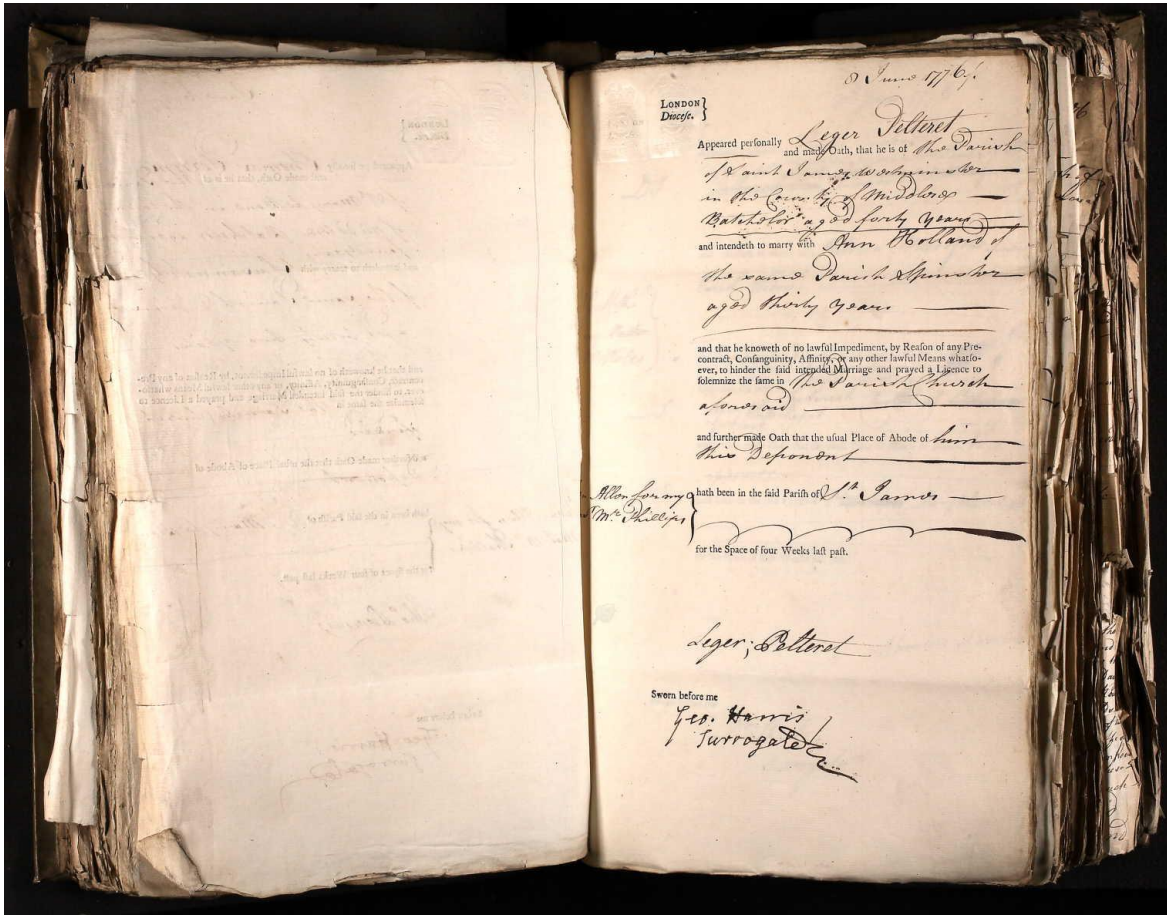

The name arrived in South Africa when, in 1833, a certain George Pelteret was taken in by the Children's Friend Society, London and shipped aboard the Charles Kerr from Cowes, captained by a Mr. Brodie (departure 21 January 1833, arrived Cape Town 11 May 1833) to become a house servant to one R W Eaton.

Richard Webber Eaton (1781-1861) arrived the Cape Town aboard the Garland on 26 September 1818. He went into partnership with his brother-in-law J B Ebden (Ebden and Eaton, Merchants) in the Heerengracht (1819) and later Berg Street (1820). In March 1822, he was the founder of the Commercial Exchange, the forerunner of the Cape Town Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and went on to be prominent in Cape Town commercial society. He had two children, wife unknown, Mary Theophila ~ 12 May 1819 and Francis James ~ 14 December 1821.

The Children's Friend Society was founded in London in 1830, as "The Society for the Suppression of Juvenile Vagrancy through the reformation and emigration of children". The first group of children was sent to the Cape Colony in South Africa and the Swan River Colony in Australia in 1832 and in August 1833, 230 children were shipped to Toronto and New Brunswick, Canada (Ref: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Home_Children; The Children's Friend Society at the Cape of Good Hope. THE ROYAL ARCHIVES

Dear Dr Pelteret,

Thank you for your letter regarding the Pelteret family. I have had a look through our records but have found nothing concerning your ancestors. I have also searched for Ann Holland whom you mentioned as the wife of Leger Pelteret but again found nothing. However, please note that the records held in the Royal Archives relating to Household employees are by no means complete.

I regret that I am unable to help you but wish you luck in your research.

Dear Dr Pelteret,

Mrs Bayliss has returned your e:mail to me for answer and I have had time to look into some of your suggestions. Firstly, however, I note that: George Pelteret arrived on a ship under Captain Brodie early in 1835 bound as house servant to R.W. Eaton in Cape Town, as you confirm. The intervention of the Children's Friend Society is interesting in this context: it is to some extent surprising in that even at that date the surviving churches and Huguenot institutions were still in a position to look after 'their' children in need so that orphans and others in contact with 'Huguenot' authorities would not have had to fall into the hands of other organisations for care and placement. The names of several (needy) Peltier adults do appear in the Hospital records for the 18th century (as LIII below). I have, however, also now found a couple of Huguenot names in a list of children sent to Canada at the period so we can assume that there could be Huguenot descendants amongst their charges.

Now you refer also to medieval instances of the name. While it is possible for their to be linear connections between French families settling in England at that time and their collaterals in France becoming Huguenots in the 16th/17th centuries and having descendants settling in England at that time, it is not likely that one can trace connections between them; a Pelter of the 18th century would know no kinship with a Pelteret newly immigrating from France.

I have already sent you our leaflets and have now checked the indexes to our publications and you may find the variants at Franschhoek: Peltreau (Quarto series vol. XXVIII), Pelter (VIII: Thomas Pelter born in Roan [Rouen] in England 15 years, 1544: so pre-Reformation/religious persecution); Peltier (IV, V, VII, XI, XIII, XVI, XVIII, XXIII, XXVII, XXXV, LIII), Peltrau (XI, XXI, XXIII, XXXIX). I do not find Pelteret as such.

I attach a list of suggested contacts for further enquiry
Yours sincerely,

S.W. Massil

John Stouter (? the brother of Evelina Stouton) was godfather to George John, Evelina and John Joseph. He had a wife, Susannah; and another, the marriage of John Stouter to Sarah Bugley on 14th July 1844.

George Pelteret was taken in by Children's Friend Society, London; shipped to Cape Town aboard the Charles Kerr from Cowes, captained by a Mr.Brodie (departure 21 January 1833, arrival 11 May 1833) to become a house servant to R W Eaton. By 1837, he was working on the farm Brandenburg(er) in Rosebank, the site of the present Rosebank Methodist Church, Cape Town.

Richard Webber Eaton arrived in Cape Town aboard the "Garland" on 26 September 1818. He went into partnership with his brother-in-law, J B Ebden (Ebden & Eaton, Merchants) in the Heerengracht (1819) and later Berg Street (1820). In March 1822, he was a founder member of the Commercial Exchange, the fore-runner of to-days Cape Town Chamber of Commerce & Industry. He died in 1861.

George Pelteret was a labourer and Evelina a house servant. Both worked for Jacob Letterstedt, owner of Mariendahl Brewery (later Ohlson's and subsequently South African Brewery). George purchased burial plot at St Paul's in 1837. Died 30 January 1890; Evelina died 19 June 1890. Bones disinterred and said to have been reburied with headstone at St.Saviour's, Claremont when church hall built at St Paul's. No record found of this at St.Saviour's, Claremont; and no record of the details of the headstone are found on the list of headstones at St.Paul's in the South African Archives, Cape Town

Jacob Letterstedt, owner of Mariendahl Brewery and the Josephine Mill (established 1840) on the Mariendahl Estate acquired these properties through his first wife Maria Barendina Becker Dreyer, whom he married in Stellenbosch on 14 September 1822. On 13 May 1874, together with (listed) others, George Pelteret and his wife gave Lydia, the daughter of Joseph and his second wife, herself Lydia (she, herself, the daughter of Sir Harcourt Boys, and also Lydia by name) "a valuable casket and a diamond locket" to celebrate her majority. It was at this time that Lydia took ownership of the estates left to her on the death of her father in 1863. Lydia was to marry the Vicomte Jean Antoine Etienne de Montmort and died aged 90 in France in 1943.

Emma Johanna Sawyer (EJS) / Williams / Pelteret

A De Lunatico Inquirendo was brought against EJS by her adopted daughter (and a midwife of Wynberg), Ivy Emma Sawyer, her care-giver.

The matter arose in the following way : EJS was married to one, Samuel Thomas Williams. A son, Leger George Williams married to Fredericka Elis née TRAUTMANN (FET) was said to have died intestate on 8 March 1917. Buried Plumstead Cemetery. In fact his will is available, dated 16 January 1916 and quite specific in its instructions. MOOC 13/1/3979.139

He owned land and 4 cottages in Rutland Street, Claremont which it was "purported" he intended leaving to his mother, and which, on the death of EJS was to devolve to his wife. Being married in community of property, an undivided half was transferred to his wife, FET, on 11 February 1933.

The wife at no time derived revenue from or had access to the property; and by the time this case was brought, FET claimed that debts in the form of rates and taxes were accruing, rentals were not being paid, and the properties were falling into a state of disrepair.

The assessed value of the properties was £880.

FET demanded : * A true and full accounting as of 8 March 1917, her husband's date of death * A right to debate (interrogate) the account. * Payment of outstanding accumulated revenues owing to her * The costs of bringing the case

EJS was interviewed by Verner Gilbert Russell on 30 June 1935 and Dr John Alexander Currie on 14 May and 2 July 1935, both of whom found her frail and infirm (being over 80 years of age), incapable of understanding the matter at hand and unable to manage her own affairs.

The order was granted on 14 August 1935. John Seton Delbridge was appointed by Mr. Justice Fischer as a Curator Bonis.

Leger Sydney Thomas Williams went on to marry Annette Dorothy JAMES at St. Luke's, Woodstock on 10 November 1924, witnesses being F E Williams and J Williams. They were divorced on 19 June 1931. Offspring 2 daughters bc. 1925 and 1927. CSC 2/1/1200.112

The book "The Durban Light Infantry" Volume II, 1935 to 1960, by Lieutenant-Colonel AC Martin, published in 1969, on page 463 has this entry :
South African Engineers Coy attached to Royal Durban Light Infantry Roll of Honour Sapper Pelteret, E.J., [sic] Commonwealth, Killed in Action, 29 May 1942. On page 107, it says Sapper E G Pelteret was badly injured ... and died as a POW.

However, EG Pelteret does not in the Commonwealth War Graves Commission Register or on the Durban Light Infantry Roll of Honour for he did not die. He was captured at Gazala and sent as a P.O.W. to Northern Italy. Whilst there, he was badly wounded and repatriated to the Union in a P.O.W. exchange in 1943.

The book is an excellent reference and it contains information taken from the Regimental War Diaries. Because the Regiment heard nothing more from Pelteret it was probably assumed that he had died and somebody entered this information as such, which then became lore.

The military record supplied by the South African National Defence Force in brief reads as follows:
12509 Pelteret, Edward George b. 24.9.09, a Woodworking Machinist was attested to the 2nd Field Coy, SA Engineering Corp; missing in action May 1942; injured - fractured pelvis - whilst P.O.W; repatriated in prisoner exchange Apr 1943; demobilised medically unfit Sept 1945; to a position of Storeman in the SAR&H.

For services during WW II he was awarded 1939-45 Star and Africa Star
