

The Times Weekly Edition.

This miniature edition of THE TIMES of LONDON was published between 22 April, 1942 and 30 January, 1946, initially fortnightly then weekly from 10 June, 1942 onwards. It was produced as follows:

the full page edition was photographically reduced to 5.5 x 8.25 inches, cast in plates and printed on a flat-bed Machine on India (Bible) paper. Between 12-13,000 copies were printed per month by The Times Publishing Co. for the Political Intelligence Department of the Foreign Office and the Ministry of Information for distribution overseas. In March 1944, the ratio was c.3,500 copies for PID to c.9,000 copies for MOI. It was principally used as a propaganda tool for disseminating news from a "reliable source" across the world.

Drambuie
PRINCE CHARLES EDWARD'S LIQUEUR

Made in Scotland since 1745 from the recipe of Prince Charles's personal liquor. Delicately flavored with Scotch honey, and served as a digestif, it is a most delicious and healthy drink.

THE CHILDREN ARE OUR CONCERN

For seventy five years we have been caring for East London's sick children—providing a fine medical service for those whose parents' ability to pay is least. Throughout these hazardous war years the Hospital has maintained adequate facilities for both in-patients and out-patients. Our need is great—may the response of readers of "The Times Weekly Edition" be generous.

Please send a gift to the General Secretary.

NEW WAYS
NEW PRODUCTS

Progress in engineering calls for new products. Dry lubrication is something new, and so is "dag" colloidal graphite in "relaxer" fluids which has made this new technique possible. "dag" products have answered the needs of industry for thirty years; they will continue to be leaders of progress.
